

LABOR'S COURT

Adjudged Secy. Salisbury Guilty of the Charges Preferred.

HIS OFFICE DECLARED VACANT

A Lengthy Session of the Trades Assembly in Conducting the Investigation of "Unbecoming Conduct" of Mr. Salisbury's Part—Little Direct Evidence—The Assembly on Street Railway Franchise.

In a hearing lasting from 4 until 8 p. m., the trades assembly yesterday at a regular meeting, sustained three charges of "conduct unbecoming a member" preferred against Secretary Thomas V. Salisbury, following this up by declaring his office vacant. Recently Mr. Salisbury's resignation was asked for by the assembly's official board, but he refused to resign and demanded an investigation.

Yesterday these charges were submitted, two of the five being dropped in the course of the affair. The charges alleged that Mr. Salisbury was guilty of conduct incompatible with a union man and official of the assembly. During the investigation's progress, considerable friction was evident and Mr. Salisbury's friends at its close threatened to take further proceedings; that the matter would not be allowed to rest with the majority of the assembly's decision, and a vote was taken that promises some interesting after-featu-

The meeting's opening feature was the chair's ruling that none but bona fide delegates would be allowed to remain. After the roll call a delegate raised the point that there yet remained a non bona fide delegate—Mr. Parsons, of the Belmont body. Mr. Williams said he would vouch for Mr. Parsons good standing as a member of the Amalgamated Association, but President Tighe adhered to his ruling.

Then Mr. Williams moved to allow Mr. Parsons to remain. An amendment by Mr. Duffy was carried, which gave Mr. Parsons a hearing while he reported the action of the Belmont council in withdrawing its delegates from the Ohio Valley assembly. Mr. Parsons was appointed by his body to give this formal notification. He stated that he was unable to report at the last meeting. His report was a brief statement of the withdrawal, after which he retired from the hall.

G. W. Greig's credentials were presented from the retail clerks' union.

The Labor Day committee reported the selection of August 25 and the State fair grounds for the annual demonstration. The question of a street parade was referred to the various locals, who will report to the assembly through their delegates their disposition to parade or not.

The finance committee's quarterly report showed a balance up to date of $44 60 in the trustee's hands, and $15 84 with the treasurer. The assembly suffered a heavy expense by the street car strike.

Letters were read from President W. D. Mahon, national president of the street railway men's union. One expressed satisfaction over the settlement of the strike here, and the other was a copy of Mr. Mahon's letter to T. L. Lewis, of Bridgeport, organizer of the A. F. of L., refusing the application for a charter of the men on the Bellaire, and Martin's Ferry line, in accordance with the protest of Local No. 103, of this city, which raised the constitutional point that no other local could be organized on parts of a connecting road without the consent of the local already existing. President Mahon concluded his letter to Mr. Lewis by saying the protest was well grounded and that Local 103's consent was necessary to another union on the Wheeling Railway's line. The letters were read by President Tighe, to whom they were sent.

The legislative committee took up the franchise application of the People's Railway Company, and submitted majority and minority reports. The majority report favored competition in the street railway business, and urged council to pass the People's ordinance with proper safeguards, one of which was that the line and franchise must never revert to the Wheeling company. The city solicitor was asked to engrave a clause in the ordinance giving the city the option to purchase and operate the People's line in preference to all others, whenever the city saw fit to adopt municipal ownership. In effect, while the People's franchise was advocated, the committee desired it drawn up rigidly to prevent consolidation with other corporations. A statement of the fares to be charged, etc., was also solicited.

The minority report differed only in that the concession of franchises should embrace the obligation to arbitrate all unmanageable differences between the company and its employees in the construction or operation of the system, constituted by representatives of the company and employees.

Considerable discussion ensued in which there was a strong showing of sentiment for municipal ownership. It was pointed out that the question was an important one, calling for deliberate consideration. There was no law to prevent the new company from watering its stock in selling to the city, or from it going into insolvency, or to prevent anybody from buying its stock. The assembly was adverse to being committed to any particular company seeking a franchise, and there were only a few dissenting votes to the motion to lay the legislative committee's report on the table. So the matter was accordingly dropped.

Then came the Salisbury investigation, and President Tighe asked that it be conducted in a calm and dignified manner. The first proceeding was the appointment of a secretary pro tem. Delegate Oscar Howard was induced to accept that Mr. Salisbury stated at the outset that he supposed it would be on the order of a judicial inquiry; the president to be judge, there to be a prosecutor and defendant, the assembly to be the jurors; not that delegates should bob up promiscuously with arguments. President Tighe ruled that all delegates would have the right to discuss the issues, without irrelevant mat-

He saw the little hole in the back when he was filling it. It was a little hole that he thought it wouldn't matter. Out of that little hole he lost his grain while taking it to market. It's that way with those in the health. None are so small but life can leak out of them.

"I've got a little touch of indigestion," says one man. Another says, "my stomach feels a little out of sorts." It is just such little things which if neglected mean the total loss of health.

The one medicine for disorders and diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the activity of the whole digestive and nutritive system, cleans away obstructions, stops the loss of the body contains by undigested or partly digested food, purifies the blood from the poisons resulting from imperfect digestion, and increases the secretions of the blood-making glands. "Golden Medical Discovery" has a wonderful record of cures of so-called "hopeless" cases.

Mr. Thos. H. Russell, of Henry, Lincoln Co., N. Y., says: "After having suffered from indigestion of the liver and all the troubles usually attending such a condition for over twenty years, and having engaged my system with floods of medicine from every available source, and being only temporarily benefited thereby, I applied to your institution for treatment. You instructed me to take a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I am now doing. Although unable to strictly follow directions I have derived more actual benefit from the few bottles I have taken so far than from all the other remedies together."

Allow me to thank you for your prompt and courteous attention to my case as well as for the good received from it."

ter. There was an appeal, but the chair was upheld. Finally, each delegate was allowed five minutes to speak, and the prosecutor and defendant twenty minutes for each argument. This ruling was soon lost sight of in the heated discussions.

A motion to keep the names out of the press provoked a storm of debate. Mr. Salisbury wanted the public to know, since so much had appeared in the papers, and the chair took this view of it. The charges were preferred by Mr. Bauer, who took the centre of the floor at 4:30 o'clock. "Conduct unbecoming a member of the assembly" was the keynote of the charges, copies of which were in the hands of Mr. Bauer and Mr. Salisbury, the former having given one to Mr. Salisbury a few days ago.

The specific charges were five in number. The first came up from a complaint of the expressmen's union. It alleged that the union had presented a grievance to the assembly as to Mr. J. E. Miller, and that Mr. Salisbury had informed Mr. Miller that the assembly's arbitration committee had no jurisdiction in his case; "that it was similar to the horsehoofers' case."

Mr. Salisbury pleaded "not guilty." Then Delegate Selvey cited Mr. Miller's statement that "an official of the assembly" gave him the information; "the man who organized the expressmen's union." Messrs. Stein and Duffy, other members of the arbitration committee, made similar statements, but none heard Mr. Miller implicate "Mr. Salisbury," no name had been mentioned.

Mr. Greig said it wouldn't do to presume Mr. Salisbury was the party; and the charges specified "T. V. Salisbury," and the defendant was entitled to the benefit of the doubt. Quite a wrangle ensued, and the chair held that it was proper to name the "organizer" of the expressmen. Mr. Rader named Mr. Salisbury.

Mr. Salisbury read an affidavit from Mr. Miller, sworn to before Squire Peterman, in which Mr. Miller said he never said "Thomas V. Salisbury gave him the information."

Mr. Duffy intimated that Defendant Salisbury was resorting to technicalities. Mr. Salisbury replied that it he had been charged as "Organizer Salisbury" the affidavit would have been the same.

Mr. Bauer questioned Mr. Miller's veracity, whereupon Mr. Salisbury arose and asked what weight the prosecution expected its charge to have, since it was based on alleged conversations with him.

Then followed a series of speeches of varying length, hinging on the technicality of the charge. Mr. Greig's motion to quash was eventually put, but the chair was unable to decide. Mr. Salisbury demanded the ayes and nays, but somebody raised the point that it couldn't be granted under the constitution. A motion carried for a standing vote, which was objected to vigorously by Mr. Williams, who claimed the chair wasn't giving Mr. Salisbury a fair show. Mr. Tighe had agreed to an aye and nay vote, but said in explanation of allowing the standing vote motion that the former vote was unconstitutional. Another hot time followed, with the gavel ringing over the din. It was very funny for awhile, and "points of order" succeeded each other rapidly.

The air became cleared after awhile and the motion to quash the first count of the indictment was defeated, there being 10 to quash and 25 against. Mr. Greig intimated that the prosecution be given until the next meeting to draw up the other charges more definitely. The vote to sustain the first specification, which was in effect declaring Salisbury guilty, was carried by 25 to 10.

The remaining charges were as follows:

Charge No. 3—That Mr. Salisbury advised several members of Local Union No. 103 (street car men) to recede from their demands for 20 cents an hour and take 15 cents, or that they would lose all.

Charge No. 3—That Mr. Salisbury stated to City Receiver Forney, that licenses should be collected from all wagons hauling passengers during the street car strike.

Charge No. 4—That Mr. Salisbury wrote a letter to the national president uncomplimentary to the local stage employees.

Charge No. 5—That Mr. Salisbury tried by a motion to get the Belmont assembly to take away the privilege of voting on a certain day from the street car strikers and the Ohio Valley delegates.

The third charge was next taken up

In order to hear the testimony of a city official, who had been kept waiting in an ante room. The witness stated that City Receiver Forney and License Officer Edward Elliott had informed him that Mr. Salisbury urged the collection of licenses from wagons temporarily used during the strike. The witness wasn't a party to the conversation, but had been so informed.

The reporters were asked to withhold the city official's name, as he had been prevailed on to appear under this condition.

Mr. Salisbury read a letter from Receiver Forney pertaining to the wagon conversation, in which it was set forth that as the writer remembered Mr. Salisbury said the transient teamsters were well able to pay, and it would only be just to the Wheeling teamsters, who paid the tax.

The charge was sustained by a vote of 25 to 8, after a fruitless effort to have the trial postponed for two weeks. There were several wrangles. President Tighe wanted the assertion denied that the trial was "a farce." This remark was induced from the debates pertaining to "heresy" evidence. During the debate delegates declared Mr. Salisbury was convicting himself by getting behind technicalities.

Charge No. 2 didn't take long. Mr. Bauer gave an account of the details of the charge, in which Mr. Salisbury was said to have counseled the men to recede from the 30-cent demand. His action was disappointing and discouraging to the strikers.

Mr. Boes moved to reject the charge, but Mr. Rader's motion to sustain carried. Mr. Williams insisted on his vote in the negative being entered on the minutes.

Mr. Dickson, of the stage workers' union, said Mr. Salisbury had written a sassy letter to their national president, Mr. Hart. Mr. Salisbury read a letter from Mr. Hart denying it, and said the stage workers' local had misunderstood him.

This specification was ruled out by the chair.

The final specification related to Mr. Salisbury's action at the Belmont council, and it was finally ruled out.

This made three charges of the five sustained.

Mr. Bauer then explained his position in the matter; that he had been conscientious; that he and Mr. Salisbury were friends, and it was the latter's official conduct he objected to.

Mr. Salisbury claimed the charges hadn't been substantiated; that heresy testimony governed and that he was the victim of a prearranged plan to convict. He asserted an improper course was taken. Exceptions to this statement were taken by Mr. Bauer.

Mr. Rader moved to sustain the action of the executive board in requesting Mr. Salisbury's resignation, which was done.

Mr. Williams wanted the secretary reprimanded, but Mr. Bauer insisted on Salisbury stepping down.

Mr. Greig wanted Mr. Salisbury to be given the privilege of resigning. Mr. Williams tried to get the matter deferred until the next meeting.

The office of secretary was then declared vacant on Mr. Rader's motion, and Mr. Oscar Howard was delegated to act in this capacity until the next meeting.

GRAVE SITUATION

At Manchester, Kentucky—Fendal Faction Armed and a Collision May Occur To-day.

LONDON, Ky., July 23.—The gravity of the situation at Manchester, Ky., and generally throughout Clay county cannot be overestimated. Many non-combatants have left their homes, abandoning their crops, and as many others as can will leave soon. Even here in London the insecurity is felt to such an extent that some families are leaving.

An outbreak is expected for to-morrow, the day set for the trial of the Philpots, accused of the killing of Aaron Morris and his wife. Both parties are mustering armed forces for marching into Manchester to-morrow morning. The Philpots have fifty-two armed horsemen, and no one here knows how many footmen. The Morris and Griffin faction also have a large force. The Philpots say the latter includes the White-Howard faction. On the other hand the Morris faction say that the Bakers have made common cause with the Philpots. Both sides will march fully armed into Manchester, arriving at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning to attend the trial. It is stated that Drury Sherwin Davis Chadwick, of the White-Howard faction, has openly espoused the cause of the Griffins. It is hard to conceive how, under these circumstances, a conflict can be avoided to-morrow.

BELLARE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County

Boyd, the notorious character who poses as a foot racer and who did other fake business on the side, was run in by the marshal here Saturday noon in the belief that the fellow was wanted east for fleeing from one. Receiving no word the marshal left the jail door ajar and after the fellow had had about three hours rest, and the way he made his escape demonstrates that he could put up a pretty swift foot race when he tries. He got out of town in a hurry and may be running yet.

Henry Wagner, very drunk, cut Seymour Dunlap in the neck with a knife for some fancied wrong, and the latter broke a beer bottle in Wagner's face, making several very ugly cuts. Both wounds were sewed up by Dr. Boone, city health officer. Dunlap's was the most dangerous. Less than an inch further back would have severed the jugular vein and put an end to at least one man's escapades.

A poker joint run by colored men, was pulled Saturday night by Officers Bowers, Shannafelt and Bahr, and twelve men were marched to the city hall between 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Ten of them were locked up, but were released yesterday for their appearance before the mayor to-day.

As soon as the official action of Governor Bushnell is taken the congressional committee will meet to fix the time and place to nominate a congressman. The governor is enjoying a short vacation now but may take official notice of the vacancy at any time.

There were about thirty occupants of the city jail Saturday night, making the jail very crowded. The police, but there were more people than there were dollars to be found in the whole posse. Two women were found in the bunch.

The Heatherington band concert next Saturday evening promises to be a great event. It will be held at Epworth park and a large delegation will go out from here.

Henry and Isaac Blum have the designs for their new residences now under consideration and will perhaps determine this week whether they will let the contracts this season or not.

Hunter S. Armstrong, esq., will accompany his mother to St. Clements tomorrow, and will spend a couple of weeks there and on the lake.

Most of the workers in the mills and factories would like to have whatever vacation there is to be this fall right now during the hot spell.

Thomas E. Shelby, manager of the Crystal glass works, will leave Wednesday for the seashore, where he will spend several days.

GREAT SUFFERING

Experienced by Members of a Mining Company in Alaska Fields.

PORT SCOTT, Kas., July 23.—The members of the Sunflower Mining Company, who left this place for Alaska eighteen months ago, sailing in their own steamer from San Francisco, are stranded at St. Michaels on their way back. The company started with plenty of money, and provisions for two years. They spent the winter on the Koyukuk river, 2,300 miles above St. Michaels and 400 miles above the farthest point they could reach by boat.

News from there to-day tells of suffering and hardships. All their money was spent in prospecting, but no gold was found. There were from one to three deaths in all the companies in that region. The men became helpless from scurvy. The doctor said only vegetable food would save them, and two companions went 110 miles for potatoes.
